

How much do you game?

1. Hardly ever, I don't even know why I am on a site about gaming.
2. I like to put in an hour or 2 on the weekends.
3. I tend to play a bit after work/school every other day if I have time.
4. I spend most of my free time playing games.
5. I only go to work to support my real career as noobSlayer69.

How much do you practice/watch guides on games you play?

1. That's a thing?
2. I might watch a good player on twitch/youtube in the background while I am doing other stuff.
3. I look up information for the games, so I know all the abilities and damage numbers.
4. I watch all the guides that come out and practice against bots if the games has a way to do that.
5. Not only do I watch all the guides but I make them too.

Your teammate is tilting hard in the game and talking trash to everyone. Do you:

1. Talk trash back and let them know that they are messing up too.
2. Wait till end of match to let them know how you feel.
3. Just mute them and play as if they aren't there.
4. Try to calm them down and see what they want to change so you can win.
5. Try to figure out who hurt them and tell them everything will be ok.

If you are getting really stomped in a game again and again and the people/person you are playing against seem to be either super good or hacking, what do you do?

1. Well looks like I need a new monitor and mouse, because I threw my mouse through my monitor.
2. I call them out for hacking and rage quit.
3. I ask my teammates if the person/s seem fishy and watch them.
4. I watch what they are doing and see if I can figure out a way to counter it or imitate.
5. I ask them if I can become their padawan.
